What is a battery energy storage system?

A battery energy storage system (BESS) is a technology that allows for the storage of electrical energy in batteries, which can then be used to power electrical loads. BESS can be used for a variety of applications, including grid stabilisation, load shifting, backup power, and integration with renewable energy sources such as solar and wind power.

Is New Zealand a key market for storage solutions?

Power Electronics NZ Ltd operations director Brent Sheridan sees New Zealand as a key market for storage solutions with future generation growth primarily being led by solar and wind technology. "Power Electronics are proud to be the suppliers of inverters for this project.

What are the different types of battery energy storage solutions?

Our fully integrated, plug-and-play battery energy storage solutions (also known as BESS) come in different sizes, from 30 kVA to 1MW, to suit a wide range of industrial and commercial energy storage applications. They ensure maximum system effectiveness and efficiency.
